Riding at White Sulphur

White Sulphur Springs, Oct. 18. THE autumn season is at its height here this week and both the Greenbrier and the White are filled. Many of the cottages remain open through this month and November. Indications are that the Thanksgiving month will find a large colony at the resort for autumn sports and the cure.

Many young folks are at White Sulphur this month, making things particularly gay. Especially is Newport well represented in the younger contingent. Riding parties are the chief attractions for them and every morning a group starts for the trails. Cross country riding has interested many and the road to Covington has been visited often the last week.

Miss Geraldine Graham, who is here with her mother, Mrs. William Miller Graham, who had a house at Newport during the summer, rides daily. Miss Therese Starrett, who is at the Greenbrier with her father, Paul A. Starrett, and Miss Elizabeth Root, also of New York, are out daily for a center through Montague's Park or along Forest Drive. Mrs. Pierce H. Butler, who is here with her sister, Miss Es-
